Father Carlos' reflection on the 14th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Our church by its nature is missionary. That means that the Lord continues to call people for his harvest and to work for his Kingdom. Some people may respond to the calling and others may not. Jesus said to them, "The harvest is abundant but the laborers are few; so ask the master of the harvest to send out laborers for his harvest. Go on your way; behold, I am sending you like lambs among wolves. Carry no money bag, no sack, no sandals; and greet no one along the way. Into whatever house you enter, first say, "Peace to this household."

Do you see yourself as a fellow worker in bringing Christ's peace to our world? Why is it important for us as a church, country and community to bring peace to our family, church and nation? This relationship of peace with God is extended to us through our actions. In light of this what kind of actions would you want to bring to your family, friends and neighbors?

May the peace of Christ helps us to be focused and brings unity and harmony among us. Let's pray together: O' God, who in the abasement of your Son has raised up a fallen world, fill your faithful with holy joy, for those you have rescued from the slavery of sin you bestow eternal gladness. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

The diocese has made available to us the use of FLOCKNOTES to send email and text messages to parishioners for passing deanery information. We are testing the use of it parishwide. Some of you have probably already received these announcing events and other happenings like meetings, funerals and fund raisers. We are still in the evaluation phase of this system, so if you have feedback based on emails and texts you have received please reply to the communications or send comments to Wayne Parent at wcparent7@aol.com.
