Father Carlos' Reflection on the 17th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Today's readings provide the insight that the image of God influences how we pray. Prayer is important because it makes us more like Jesus and because it reveals to us the heart and mind of God. We pray because we need to help ourselves. We pray because the need flows out of us all the time, whether waking or sleeping. It doesn't change God. It changes us.

How often do you spend time in prayer? What kind of prayer do you offer for yourself and for others?

How is your relationship with God? Do you see that relationship as a priority in your life?

Can we make a difference as individuals, families, friends, church and country if we pray together for peace and unity amongst us?

As the Lord teaches us how to pray. Let's pray for one another. "Grant, we pray, almighty God, that, always pondering spiritual things, we may carry out in both word and deed that which is pleasing to you. Through Christ, our Lord. Amen. "
